

You Always See What You Want

Tygers of Pan Tang

You can smile,
When things are going your way.
You can laugh,
When luck smiles down on you.
Success is sweet,
And failure so bitter.

You always see what you want to see,
You always believe what you want.
You always see what you want to see,
You always believe what you want to believe

There's no right,
And no wrong in your eyes.
There's no good,
and no bad as long as you are right.
No heaven or hell,
At the end of the line.

(Rep chorus + 1st verse)