

Heroes

Tyler Hubbard

You won't see 'em on the TV
Or signin' autographs
Unless they're at the bank signin'
A make ends meet paycheck
Their last name might not mean a lot
Outside these county lines
Well, they don't need attention
They're too busy savin' lives

Between the single moms who work two jobs
To feed the kids and pay the rent
The farmers who still turn a crop
When all the rain decides to quit
The ones that risk their lives and don't think twice to lay it down
There's some real-life heroes in this town

There's that teacher teachin' 9th grade
Who won't let that one kid quit
He'll come back and thank her
Down the road just like I did
There's a boy without a daddy
With college football speed
That high school coach was all he had
Now everyone believes

Between the single moms who work two jobs
To feed the kids and pay the rent
The farmers who still turn a crop
When all the rain decides to quit
The ones that risk their lives and don't think twice to lay it down
There's some real-life heroes in this town

Yeah, I watch my kids look up at me
Like I can fly through air
Lord knows I'm no Superman
Just hope I fall somewhere

Between the single moms that work two jobs
To feed the kids and pay the rent
The farmers who still turn a crop
When all the rain decides to quit
The ones that risk their lives and don't think twice to lay it down
There's some real-life heroes in this town
