If I could only read your mind
To understand what you are thinking
I'd take a step back into time
But that it is me, I'm only dreaming

Well, can I stand the fear of walking Will I disappear and walk away But let it be for another day again

'Cause I'm falling down again And I do not know the reasons That I'm falling down again Again

I close my eyes and wonder why
I can't put this all together
I want to let you go this time
But the addiction's growing stronger
The fighting's getting harder

Can I stand the fear of walking
Will I disappear and walk away
But let it be for another day again, yeah

'Cause I'm falling down again And I do not know the reasons That I'm falling down again Again

And only time can heal this pain But just make it through another day

Yeah, yeah, yeah... Woah, woah...

And I'm falling down again And I do not know the reasons That I'm falling down again Again

And I'm falling down again And I do not know the reasons That I'm falling down again Again
