Typecast

Lock the door, close the blinds
Rest your chest close to mine
And remember this will be our last
Turn it up so they can't hear
If it's too loud, just let ears bleed

Felt the warmth around our necks
All what's left is one last step
But we're strung up, we almost lost control
Fix our lips for one last kiss
Cause we know we'll burn for this

Fix our lips for one last kiss

We're all we need and no one else
The time is now, no turning back
We'll be floating on the floor
We can't take it anymore
Never will forget
We will not regret

Stay with me
Stay until it's gone
And I wish it will never end
But our time is almost up

Almost morning, we're still up
I wonder if this will fix our broken hearts

We're all we need and no one else
The time is now, no turning back
We'll be floating on the floor
We can't take it anymore
The time is now, no turning back
We're all we need and no one else
We'll be floating on the floor
We can't hold it

Stay with me
Stay until it's gone
And I wish it will never end
But our time is almost up

Lock the door, close the blinds
Rest your chest close to mine
Turn it up so they can't hear
If it's too loud, just let ears bleed

Felt the warmth around our necks
Fix our lips for one last kiss
Cause we know we'll burn for this
