

Gypsy Song

Typhoon

I have died in the swirl of your gypsy skirts
In you I am consent to work
One lonely voice that grew softly in my ear
Child you are free from the constraints of your world

Rest in peace
Lay your bones down into the earth

Rest in peace