

Grow

Tyrone Wells

I'll wait for the world to change
To become what I wanted to be
But what if the world is Waiting for me

Wish I was a better man
I take and I take again
It's hard but I'm trying
To open my hands

I've been looking in the mirror
I've been counting up the years
I've been thinking 'bout how fast it all can go
Lately I've been asking myself to grow

I look in my daughter's eyes
I wanna give her a beautiful life
Hey you, can you help me
Make a future that's bright?

I've been thinking 'bout the way
I took for granted yesterday
I've been wondering where good intentions go
Lately I've been asking myself to grow
Grow
Grow
Grow

I've been walking half asleep
I've been drinking too deep
I've been wondering do we all feel alone

I've been looking in the mirror
I've been counting up the years
I've been thinking 'bout how fast it all can go
Lately I've been asking myself to grow
