

Strangers In Paradise

U.D.O.

Fear has come to us
And left us all alone
So many empty promises
Have slowly turned to stone

We will not stay forever
Just lost inside a storm
Remember when I've gone away
The world's still moving on

Among the woods the soft winds play
Cascading branches grand
The sunlight shines from far away
Onto this silent land

We are strangers in paradise
We're sailing the oceans of time
We are strangers in paradise
We're scaling the mountain of life

Feel a wave's caress
Or hear a whispering tree
And watch the silver morning light
A new life breaking free

When our days are over
The glance forever gone
And angels fly eternally
Into a distant dawn

A lonely light for evermore
Is shining from the sky
We're welcomed through an open door
To find the reason why

We are strangers in paradise
We're sailing the oceans of time
We are strangers in paradise
We're scaling the mountain of life

Ooh ooh ooh strangers in paradise
Ooh ooh ooh

We are strangers in paradise
We're sailing the oceans of time
We are strangers in paradise
We're scaling the mountain of life

We are strangers...
In the silver morning light
...in paradise
A new life breaking free
We're sailing the oceans of time
Ooh - ooh
We are strangers...

The glance forever gone
