

Just hold me tight as I'm drowning in the ocean
There is no time, capsize under emotions
You always ask what you can do
And I'm too proud to say the only thing I need is you
The only thing I need is you
The only thing I need is you

We could be giants, then we'd be strong enough
To take on the shape that we want
I say that it's fine and I act like I don't care
But do you taste the salt in the air?
Watching moons pass, sharing a glass
It's always going way too fast

Just hold me tight as I'm drowning in the ocean
There is no time, capsize under emotions
You always ask what you can do
And I'm too proud to say the only thing I need is you
The only thing I need is you
The only thing I need is you
The only thing I need is you

You're living on a different rock
I'm speaking in a different tongue
We're only equals when we touch
We could be giants, then we'd be strong enough
To take on the shape that we want
I say that it's fine and I act like I don't care
But do you taste the salt in the air?

Just hold me tight as I'm drowning in the ocean
There is no time, capsize under emotions
You always ask what you can do
And I'm too proud to say the only thing I need is you
Just hold me tight as I'm drowning in the ocean
There is no time, capsize under emotions
Build us a castle out of sand
Though the tide rolls in, we're watching and we're holding hands
s
Watching and we're holding hands
All I really need is you

All I really need is you
You
