

Don't Worry

Ulrik Munther

Somewhere, there's a rainbow
Shining through the clouds
Doesn't matter where you go
Just get out

When the ones you love
Are responsible for where it hurts
Don't worry, don't worry
When you tried your best
But you just can't make it work
Don't worry, don't worry

Lonely like a widow
Hungry like a child
Grounded like a scarecrow, faking
Yet another smile

When your train pulls in
And you know it's time to say goodbye
When you face the wind
Let it take you and you'll be alright

But you worry, and you worry
On and on, it goes
Where it stops, nobody knows
When you worry
Yeah, you worry, when you worry
On and on and on, it goes
Where it stops, nobody knows
When you worry

Somewhere there's a rainbow
Shining through the clouds
Doesn't matter where you go
Just get out

When the ones you love
Are responsible for where it hurts
Don't worry, don't worry
When you tried your best
But you're unable to make it work
Don't worry, don't worry

When your train pulls in
And you know it's time to say goodbye
Don't worry, don't worry
When you face the wind
Let it take you and you'll be alright
Don't worry, don't worry
When you're far from home
And you've reached the point of no return
Don't worry, don't worry
When you fly so high
But you're scared the sun will have you burned
Don't worry, don't worry, yeah

Don't worry, love

Don't worry, love
Don't worry, love
Don't worry, love
Don't worry
Don't worry
Don't worry
Don't worry
Don't worry