

You And I (Ti Amo)

Umberto Tozzi

Ti amo - throw a coin Ti amo - in the air Ti amo - heads up it means that it's over We're leaving each other

Ti amo - I'm a man Ti amo - and I love you Ti amo - there is no cold in my heart
Just the fire you started

I lose my breath when you reveal yourself is love so far from hate?
Love is a question - a butterfly changing it's shape

And I need you as I need the sun you are forever the one so I return in my sorrow will you give me - your tomorrow

Ti amo - how could I hurt you so now I am here again open the door to a man who is hollow with pain

And forgive me and fill me with wine put me to bed like a child wrap me in sheets of white linen let me dream of - the beginning

Of you and me
running beside the sea making love endlessly singing like birds in the dawn when the moonlight is gone

And I'll look for your face in my mirror always be wanting you nearer to tease you and hold you and kiss you you don't know how - much I'm missing you

Ti amo - how could I fall so low I couldn't love you more ti amo, ti amo, ti amo, ti amo, ti amo

Touch me and fill me with wine

wild horses running free love is a room on fire love is the eagle that dives and goes circling higher

I need you as I need the sun

I'll tease you and hold you and kiss you
you don't know how - much I'm missing you

Ti amo - i love you

Ti amo - I need you

Ti amo
