Mistakes

Unaverage Gang

I gotta break away
From these fuckin' chains that's wrapped around my mental
I been dealing with stress everyday
I wanna run far away and never come home
I'm like many others, just another lost soul
Too many breaks will lead right you into a dark path
That's why I keep my head down
And keep working on my own craft
Never gave a fuck about what anybody thought of me
They can keep on hating
While I'm chasing out my fuckin' dreams

I never thought I'd be the person that I ought to be
Nothing gonna fuckin' change
Just don't bother me
Crawling up from inside and I'm all alone
My body's here, but my mind's in a different zone
I never thought I'd be the person that I ought to be
Nothing gonna fuckin' change
Just don't bother me
Crawling up from inside and I'm all alone
My body's here, but my mind's in a different zone

All the times I could've said it
But never said it
It could've left my mind
You know I'd never let it
I put the past behind
And homie, let's forget it
The past will keep on creepin'
Only if you let it
I'm diggin' 'em deeper
And callin' the creatures
Try never lookin' in my mind
Only lackin' the features
I never
Hold back
Don't be callin' it an act
If you never seen it before
Don't try to be the one to score

I never thought I'd be the person that I ought to be
Nothing gonna fuckin' change
Just don't bother me
Crawling up from inside and I'm all alone
My body's here, but my mind's in a different zone
I never thought I'd be the person that I ought to be
Nothing gonna fuckin' change
Just don't bother me
Crawling up from inside and I'm all alone
My body's here, but my mind's in a different zone
