

Reason To Drink

Uncle Kracker

Ain't got a yeti but my beers still cold
Got a chevy on blocks, it's gonna rock when it rolls
Never been on a yacht but my neighbors got a sweet pontoon
I've been told by a wiseman, to live like you were dying
It gets me in trouble but god knows I'm trying
Got holes in my speakers but they're playing a Seger tune

Oh if I ever needed a reason to drink
That's about as good as anyone I would think
There's a breeze through the trees and the suns in the sky
If I need another reason, it ain't gonna be hard to find

I got cracks in my ceiling but they're over my head
I got a blanket of bills that keeps me warm in my bed
There's a lot to be said for sleeping with peace of mind
I got a reason to laugh, I got a reason to cry
I believe there's a reason I'm even alive

Oh if I ever needed a reason to drink
That's about as good as anyone I would think
There's a breeze through the trees and the moons in the sky
If I need another reason, it ain't gonna be hard to find

Drink me away
Drink me away
Drink me away
I want to feel the best I've felt all day

Oh if I ever needed a reason to drink
That's about as good as anyone I would think
There's a breeze through the trees and the stars in the sky
If I need another reason, it ain't gonna be hard to find

Come on now
Drink me away
Drink me away
Come on now
Drink me away
I want to feel the best I've felt all day
Yeah, I want to feel the best I've felt all day
