

Wait

Under The Flood

It's never ending
We start another day that feels the same
Is it always going to be this way
And you feel like running
Because it feels like all you've ever wanted
Is fading with each day

If you could only wait
Another moment with me
Because I only ever wanted you to stay
And I can't imagine you leaving
And watching you walk away
I was never enough for you to lean on
I'd give anything up if you could hold on
Wait another moment with me

There must be some way
There must be something I can say
To take your pain away
When you feel like leaving
When you feel like I'm the only one to blame
If only you could stay

If you could only wait
Another moment with me
Because I only ever wanted you to stay
And I can't imagine you leaving
And watching you walk away
I was never enough for you to lean on
I'd give anything up if you could hold on
Wait another moment with me

We can turn this all around
And now will find a way to start all over
Wait another moment with me
Because I only ever wanted you stay
And I can't imagine you leaving

Wait another moment with me
Because I only ever wanted you to stay
And I can't imagine you leaving
And watching you walk away
I was never enough for you to lean on
I'd give anything up if you could hold on
Wait another moment with me

Wait another moment with me
Because I only ever wanted you to stay
And I can't imagine you leaving
