Cycle

Underoath

How is the beginning collapsing over the ending
Am I starting a new trend
Or am I just chasing my tail again
Am I starting to cave in
There is nothing left to believe in

Stuck in my head it's a god-damn maze
Carve out my eyes I can't see anyway
Darker than heaven empty as god
There is nothing to live for

I guess you were right about everything
Carve out my tongue I got nothing to say
Darker than heaven empty as God
There is nothing to live for

Take the reigns I've had enough
Steer this thing into the wall
So pull the rope in
I'm loosing myself down here
I'm sinking

Stuck in my head it's a god damn maze
Carve out my eyes I can't see anyway
Darker than heaven empty as god
There is nothing to live for

I guess you were right about everything
Carve out my tongue I got nothing to say
Darker than heaven empty as God
There is nothing to live for

You were never really right about it all
But that's the way that you like to recall it all

You love to believe that you were right
All along
I was the one issuing a warning
This a warning
Useless, I know
Because you'll just go and ignore me
Won't you?
Won't you?
Simply patronizing won't do will it?
Will it will it will it well I'm through Putting my faith in anything I'm through

Putting my faith In anything
I'm told to close my eyes to see
Nobody informed me mornings are made
For mourning what could have been Eyes wide open
Exonerated of sin

Stuck in my head it's a god damn maze
Carve out my eyes I can't see anyway
Darker than heaven empty as god

There is nothing to live for

I guess you were right about everything
Carve out my tongue I got nothing to say
Darker than heaven empty as God
There is nothing to live for

Am I starting a new trend
