Underoath

"Feels like I'm dreaming and I know what happens next
Caught in the deep end with your hands around my neck
Hang on, help ain't coming
My screams are silent, no sound
Slow down, I can't keep running
Saw this coming, should've saw this coming

You come alive every single bite
Flesh in your mouth, smile out of spite
How's it taste? Can't be your first time
Hang me outside till I'm left bone dry

Fading fast, I can barely see
Blood in your mouth, don't you look happy?
Bury me where your secrets sleep
What's it taste like when you're lying through your teeth?

Feels like forever since I had an ounce of hope
Want it to be over but I'm learning how to cope
Hold on, I ain't ready
One breath, no chance, hold steady
Time's up, can't keep running
Saw this coming, should've saw this coming

You come alive every single bite
Flesh in your mouth, smile out of spite
How's it taste? Can't be your first time
Hang me outside till I'm left bone dry

Fading fast, I can barely see
Blood in your mouth, don't you look happy?
Bury me where your secrets sleep
What's it taste like when you're lying through your teeth?

I don't even care if there's skin left on the bone
I don't even care if you let me die alone
Tell me what it tastes like
Tell me how you sleep
Tell me all about it while you're lying through your teeth

Lying through your teeth "
