

Vultures

Underoath

Two days, I still can't catch no sleep
I came down, my heart feels outta sync
I daydream that there's nothing more for me
By now, you'd think I would believe
In every word you said
In every lie you fed
In every word you left me begging to see the end

There used to be a spark here
You know you snuffed it out
Stop acting like you care
While my heart's in your mouth

So tell me, how's it feel now
That you circle with the vultures
So tell me, how's it feel
Now
That you circle with the vultures

Laid out, the sun is in my eyes
I smile, they're eating me alive
It's too late for me to even try
Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

There used to be a spark here
You know you snuffed it out
Stop acting like you care
While my heart's in your mouth

So tell me, how's it feel now
That you circle with the vultures
So tell me, how's it feel
Now
That you circle with the vultures

I don't know how to let it go
So I'll let you tear my skin from the bone
Fading in and out of the light
I let you take me to the other side

There used to be a spark here
You know you snuffed it out
Stop acting like you care
While my heart's in your mouth

I was never worth it
You made it real
I was never worth it
I'll never heal

So tell me, how's it feel now
That you circle with the vultures
So tell me, how's it feel
Now
That you circle with the vultures
That you circle with the vultures
