

Inside The Power

Unitopia

It's five o'clock in the morning, I focus on the time,
As I wake from a dream, excitement races through my mind.

The wind beckons as the sun breaks the morning apart, Heading down the same old track, the panoramic view accelerates my heart.

Nobody knows what it's like to be free, inside of you,
inside of me.

Inside the power, inside of me
Rushing deeper than the deep blue sea
I can know what it truly means to be Taken higher than the sky
Higher than the sky

You come to the same place you've been there before, Blistering perfection, you see it from the melting shore,
The perfect day, the shimmering haze, the southern sky,
The force of nature, the sheer velocity takes me by surprise.

Nobody knows what it's like to be free, inside of you,
inside of me.

Inside the power, inside of me
Rushing deeper than the deep blue sea
I can know what it truly means to be
Taken higher than the sky
Higher than the sky

Inside the power, inside of me
Rushing deeper than the deep blue sea
I can know what it truly means to be
Taken higher than the sky
Higher than the sky

Inside the power, inside of me
Rushing deeper than the deep blue sea
I can know what it truly means to be
Taken higher than the sky
Higher than the sky
