Use me and exhume me like you do
Leave me mortified 'cause I've been petrified
I'm losing while I fight for my life
Still I can't find the strength

So throw me away

Where's my head at?
Where's my head?
Where's my head at?
Where's my head?
Where's my head at?
Where's my head?

Something's missing here
I'm lost in what's next
It's dragging me down again and again
I've made the same mistakes, destruction of my soul
I'm getting high to kill the lows

Just throw me away

Where's my head at?
Where's my head? (I don't know)
Where's my head at?
Where's my head? (I don't know)
Where's my head at?
Where's my head?

Yeah
Staring over the faucet, repeating can I get a grip?
Pressed with the cold steel, this shit it get heavy
It's fuckin hard to keep hold of my sanity, pray I make it out
Swear I won't let you down in moments of doubt
And on my all I never wanted to break with the pressure
But some things got to move when you feel like you lesser
Weighing down on me, I'm begging for mercy
And sorry mom I know it wasn't easy living like this
But we gon' make it out of the dark times
I put that on my life, giving it all I got
Said fuck it to everyone who ain't with me
When I needed help, I'm fiendin' a reason
Truth be told it was not enough for them and that fucked me up
It's the growing pain, growing pains
Always felt like it's no escape, hate to wait
But as I look in the glass I can feel the shame
Maybe I should step back into the world again
And regain my strength

Use me
Just throw me away

Where's my head at?
Where's my head? (I don't know)
Where's my head at?
Where's my head? (I don't know)
Where's my head at?

Where's my head?
