

Ghosts In The Mist

Unleash the Archers

From out of shadows, and without warning
They've come to join the war, who're they fighting for
Like phantoms in the dark, they're hunting
They silently command who is the unseen hand

With fury, rage controlled, contained
They strike at the heart of the storm
And though we may believe we're saved
There's chaos that threatens to form

No mercy from the avenging flood
Ghosts in the mist, unleashing blood for blood
Moved by a ruthlessness they prey on both sides of the fight
Surging forth they kill then disappear in the night

So, she has ascended
Revealed herself to me at last

Creeping in, blades at the ready
Assassins on the path, the unrelenting wrath
Deadly gaze, ice cold and steady
Won't even know they're there, just stillness in the air

With calculated force they've made it
Clear that the battle's begun
The seething fire of fear inspired
Could rival the heat of the sun

No mercy from the avenging flood
Ghosts in the mist, unleashing blood for blood
Moved by a ruthlessness they prey on both sides of the fight
Surging forth they kill then disappear in the night

Only the fallen know their faces
Once they have found you, know that there's nowhere you can run

You think you can hide behind the mask you choose to wear
I know who you really are, and I'm not giving in to fear

No mercy from the avenging flood
Ghosts in the mist, unleashing blood for blood
Only the fallen know the face of the one on the hunt
Once she has found you know that there's nowhere you can run
