

Soulstorm

Unleash the Archers

There is a storm coming, I can feel it in my soul, watching the sky go dark as thunder speaks to me Menacing clouds approaching, they will wrap us in the cold, tempest rising

Electrify! Lightning spans the corners of my mind, abandon all control; release the power Electrify! Arcing through my fingers, sparks will fly, overloaded it's my final hour

There is no time for running, feel the static in the air,
I can't delay the charge it's growing constantly Try to escape, I'll find you,
I am here and everywhere, tension building

Electrify! Lightning spans the corners of my mind,
abandon all control; release the power
Electrify! Arcing through my fingers, sparks will fly,
overloaded it's my final hour

Crushed and contorted, no more a human heart If I embrace electric destiny, always an internal hurricane

Electrify! Lightning spans the corners of my mind,
abandon all control; release the power
Electrify! Arcing through my fingers, sparks will fly,
overloaded it's my final hour

Surging with the force, I can feel it, I'll electrify!
