Circular Motion

Unlike Pluto

I'm all alone, where did you go?
Back into your mind, down into your hole
And I'm not invited, I already know

I'm standing right in front of you
Say something, won't you say something, baby?
You don't look at me, you see through

You want me to swim but you won't be my ocean
We're spinning in circles, a circular motion

Pushing away, you're pulling me through
Might do the same if I were you
One foot on the ground, and one on the moon

Together we could get it right
You and me, baby, that's the life
But you are never satisfied

And every time I close my eyes, we're falling from the skies
Our mouths are shut and our hands are tied
And every time you take my hand, the cycle starts again
But I wake up just before we land

You want me to swim but you won't be my ocean
We're spinning in circles, a circular motion

One day I'll sail, I'll sail away
I know you won't look for me
You'll say I'm better off this way
That's what you decided for me

And every time I close my eyes, we're falling from the skies
Yeah, we're falling, yeah yeah yeah
And every time you take my hand, the cycle starts again
Again, again, yeah yeah yeah yeah

You want me to swim but you won't be my ocean
We're spinning in circles, a circular motion
You want me to swim but you won't be my ocean
We're spinning in circles, a circular motion
