

Crocodile Tears

Unlike Pluto

Crocodile tears are no good here
Go on, let them fall, they'll disappear
All my blood is red, my heart is blue
All the greed is green, but what are you?

Ain't got money?
What's your story
They don't care
But they say they worry
A smile's cheaper than a penny when the thought behind it's empty
God forbid they feel a little heavy

I figured it out between all the doubt
If it doesn't hurt them, then your pain doesn't count
Humanity's all gone somewhere low
Here I am, here I am, here I am, here I am, here I am

Crocodile tears are no good here
Go on, let them fall, they'll disappear
All my blood is red, my heart is blue
All the greed is green, but what are you?

I don't know about you
Time goes but they refuse
It's money or life, you choose
Go on whatchu choose, go on whatchu choose

When it's too late you all panic like you cared before
But you've been sleepin like there's nothing left worth living for

Wide awake and I, wide awake and I
I don't want to feel like you
Humanity's all gone somewhere low
Here I am, here I am, here I am, here I am, here I am

Crocodile tears are no good here
Go on, let them fall, they'll disappear
All my blood is red, my heart is blue
All the greed is green, but what are you?

Life is moving fast
Hard to see a clear path
When you bury signs
And ignore the past
Cause white lies, they're clear
When you're not blind, blind

Crocodile tears are no good here
Go on, let them fall, they'll disappear
All my blood is red, my heart is blue
All the greed is green, but what are you?
