

Drown Me

Unlike Pluto

Drown me with the things that break me down
Drown me with the things that break me down

Throw my sword in the sand
A new abyss in my hands
Take a look around
Am I the haunted or the hunted

Scream into the unknown
A bitter taste on my tongue
There's something evil that wants to haunt me
Curse me, without a reason to

Drown me with the things that break me down
Drown me with the things that break me down
Watch the sun rise
Watch the sun fall
Its beautiful between it all
Drown me with the things that break me down

Put the pieces of the puzzle together
The shadow was a memory
Trapped on an island
Exiled from my mind
My past is here and it came for blood

Scream into the unknown
A bitter taste on my tongue
There's something evil that wants to haunt me
Curse me, without a reason to

Drown me with the things that break me down
Drown me with the things that break me down
Watch the sun rise
Watch the sun fall
Its beautiful between it all
Drown me with the things that break me down

I won't fight back
Every piece of me that's lurking free
I'm not my past
And I don't know the future anymore
I don't know what to decode

Drown me with the things that break me down
Drown me with the things that break me down
Watch the sun rise
Watch the sun fall
Its beautiful between it all
Drown me with the things that break me down
