

Ethel

Unlike Pluto

I don't know how to say (oh) we're long gone
We're gone, long gone, gone
I don't show, that it went wrong, that I'm not strong (oh)
Not strong, not strong, strong

Over the years you have changed me
And every time I'm near you you distort my reality
Why can't I just quit you

You taught me to speak up if I wanna be heard
You'd think that I woulda learned, to be strong, I'm not strong
And over time I'm stumbling over my words
I'm getting what I deserve, you're a disease without a cure

Over the years you have changed me
And every time I'm near you you distort my reality
Why can't I just quit you

I feel like if I wait here too much longer, feel like I'm going to blow
Convinced myself that you're making me stronger, when you've been bringing me low
Bringing me, bringing me low

Over the years you have changed me
And every time I'm near you you distort my reality
Why can't I just quit you
