

Fallen Parachutes

Unlike Pluto

Too high
In night skies
Collide
With fear now
Look around, it's all coming down now
Fear and doubt fill up my lungs now
Screaming out, it's time to jump out now
I'm calling out

Ready, steady
Never ordinary
Ready, steady
I'm trusting you

Like a fallen parachute
Deployed in the altitude
But nothing ever comes out
Deadweight on my back, it's dragging me down
Parachute
Lost my grip in altitude
Parachute

Skylight
Too bright now
I'll guide
We're getting out
Act now or forever we fade out
Memories in the family faze out
Didn't make it through the rudder
Never trusting you

Falling, heavy
Always legendary
Falling, heavy
I'm trusting you

Like a fallen parachute
Deployed in the altitude
But nothing ever comes out
Deadweight on my back, it's dragging me down
Parachute
Lost my grip in altitude
Parachute

Safety nets I break right through
Falling through the sky, I'm free falling
Then I stop two feet from the ground
Recognize I don't need you
I think about these things too much

Like a fallen parachute
Deployed in the altitude
But nothing ever comes out
Deadweight on my back, it's dragging me down
Parachute
Lost my grip in altitude
Parachute
