

Hummingbird

Unlike Pluto

Remember all the memories
Follow like a ghost
Were you here in the first place
Or have I been alone?
The room is dark and empty
The air is dry and cold
Did you leave with the summer?
Is that why I'm alone?

In retrograde
No serenade
No comfort, no closure
No barricade

I act like I don't mind
Running and slipping away from me

I say I don't mind
But I'm way outta line
If they knew
Oh, hummingbird, without you
I'm wasting my time
And I say that I'm fine
But I know
That my hummingbird's in another room
That my hummingbird's in another room

Cigarettes and asphalt
Smells like seventeen
Smells like all the memories
Gone like autumn leaves
And winter's been a decade
Never turned to spring
Skipped right to the summer
Scorching everything

In retrograde
No serenade
No comfort, no closure
No barricade

I act like I don't mind
Running and slipping away from me

I say I don't mind
But I'm way outta line
If they knew
Oh, hummingbird, without you
I'm wasting my time
And I say that I'm fine
But I know
That my hummingbird's in another room

I've been waiting for time after time
But it never comes
Away from me

Visions in time are the visions of mine
That are left or lost, I act like I don't mind
Running and slipping away from me

I say I don't mind
But I'm way outta line
Oh, hummingbird, without you
I'm wasting my time
And I say that I'm fine
But I know
