

Overwhelmed

Unlike Pluto

Sinking underwater
Under pressure, paralyzing me
It's our generation
Broken nation
It consumes me
Our collective sadness
Turns to madness
It's psychiatry
Weighted by our issues
By our problems
We need therapy

It's dark inside our crooked minds
We're looking for a glimpse of light
But we don't know what we're aiming for

Overwhelming
The weight, pushing
Overwhelming
How it washes over me

Sitting at the bottom
Of the ladder
Of society
Billionaire oppression
New recession
It's depressing me
How they just control us
Try to hold us
Like we're on their strings
Dancing when they pull us
When they fool us
Saying that we're free

It's dark inside our crooked minds
We're looking for a glimpse of light
But we don't know what we're aiming for

Overwhelming
The weight, pushing
Overwhelming
How it washes over me

Every generations has their trials, tribulations, that's a hard fact of life
But if we keep complaining, know that no ones gonna save us
All of these deaf ears won't hear our screams

Overwhelming
The weight, pushing
Overwhelming
How it washes over me
