

Paranoia

Unlike Pluto

It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
All these daydreams and no daylight
I'm imagining these things
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia

Paranoia

I always think of the worst
My mind works like a curse
Take anything that's beautiful
Or are they really beautiful?

Thoughts in my head take me away
Wish I could say: "I'm okay"

It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
All these daydreams and no daylight
I'm imagining these things
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia

Paranoia

Mind attack, mind attack
How do I dial it back?
How do you start to see
How easy it is for me
To self destruct on the floor
Spill my brains

Thoughts in my head take me away
Wish I could say: "I'm okay"

It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia
All these daydreams and no daylight
I'm imagining these things
It sits in the back of my head like paranoia

Paranoia

Something in my mind, growing all the time
Learn to let it go, or it starts to show
Written on my face, paranoia stains
Let it go, let it go, let it go
Something in my mind, growing all the time
Learn to let it go, or it starts to show
Written on my face, paranoia stains
Let it go, let it go, let it go
