

Silver Screen Life

Unlike Pluto

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

We watch them all and laugh and cry
But in the end, we know it's a lie
But somehow we still believe
And ignore all reality

We get our fix, let it eclipse, our every sense
Stealing our attention, stealing our attention
In our escape, we lose our way, been led astray
And someone failed to mention, someone failed to mention

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Silhouettes, hiding all the imperfections
Cigarettes, burning like our own reflection
I know everybody wants to be like you
Really you're an actor, just a muse
Really it's the business who abuse
Feeding you lines like it comes from you

Ohhhh, we really wanna be like you
Ohhhh, we really wanna be like you

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Seems like this show goes on forever
Runaround, runaround, no
Seems like reality is severed
Cut it off, cut it off, no

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of

Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up

Silver screens and movie scenes
Are what dreams are made of
Perfect skies and perfect lies
No wonder they never wanna wake up
