

I've been waiting for the day
When I'll grow up

Thinking 'bout the place where I belong

That place is a safe haven for me
Where nothing bad exists
It took me all these years to see

This planet's made a slave to corruption
It's getting harder and harder for me to function
My soul's been turning to stone
Can't make it out on my own
I still find it hard to let go
But now I'm scared to the bone

I'm still like the child
That I used to be
It won't last forever
I'm trying to find
The version of me
That will last forever

You are a filthy pack waiting to taste the flesh
I can not find rest 'til I still the blood thirst
I look in the mirror and see
That I've become the worst of me

I'm still like the child
That I used to be
It won't last forever
I'm trying to find
The version of me
That will last forever

You demonise me
You demonise me

I'm still like the child
That I used to be
It won't last forever
I'm trying to find
The version of me
That will last
