

Prototype

Unprocessed

Woke in the hollow
Face the unknown
Strayed from my dreams, I
Breath the poison
Built this prison
Got myself in
All that we knew
There ain't no truth
I fell for you
Where do we all go
When the sorrow
Blisters through corrosive snow

Colourless
Laboratory
Pollution in the empty skies
Black tower
Observatory
Crystals stitching in my skin

A nightmare that unfolds in state of seizing stiffness
I feel stray in these levels as the universe unravels
In the depth we sink

Black pearls on transparent floor
They lead my ways in to the unknown
I didn't hesitate to knock your door
To become an artificial clone

Black pearls on transparent floor
I climb the stairs to invade the throne
I didn't hesitate to knock your door
I hoped I would escape on my own

Self
Evolvement
Whispering angelic voices simulating real life
Slaying
Punishment
Machinery in darkest colour preparing for us to fight
