

Velvet

Unprocessed

My sins reflecting on my necklace, diamonds shimmering
I hear the chains beating against my chest they keep me safe and sound
Dripping gold out of my mouth

I listened to the voices in my head so many times
I'm gazing at the underworld - on the other side
Makes me feel alive

I must walk through the mirror on the wall
Know I'm the fairest one of all
Velvet on my skin
Evil from within

I tend to follow ways that lead me far into the dark
I bend and borrow here and there when I need my world to spark
And the gold's set to embark

I must walk through the mirror on the wall
Know I'm the fairest one of all
Velvet on my skin
Evil from within

Can you hear the devil speak in
Twisted tongues his smile so cheeky
Can you hear the devil speaking?
We shall no more keep concealing

I must walk through the mirror on the wall
Know I'm the fairest one of all
Velvet on my skin
Evil from within

I must walk through that mirror on the wall
Know I'm the fairest one of all
Velvet on my skin
Evil from within
