

Human Condition

Unspoken.

I take my confidence and put it on like armor
Five-foot-nine so I try to stand a little taller
To measure up I got to work a little harder
It's the human condition

I do it all to make it perfect for the picture
Pretty smile, let me find the perfect filter
If they believe it maybe I'll believe it with them
That's the human condition

Lord, help me, I'm so tired of pretending
I can't hold it together, when I know that I can't
Lord, show me, I don't have to be worthy
It's because of Your mercy
You love me, You love me
Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am

A crown of thorns and a cross that was too heavy
My jaded heart know where it needed saving
You could have turn, could have run, could have left me in my...
My human condition

And if I'm really being honest
Every day I struggle with the promise
That all I am is all You ever wanted, ever wanted

Lord, help me, I'm so tired of pretending
I can't hold it together, when I know that I can't
Lord, show me, I don't have to be worthy
It's because of Your mercy
You love me, You love me
Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am

When I'm lost in my fear
In the dark, insecure
Let me fall in the arms
Of the One who loves me

Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am
You love me, You love me, You love me
Just as I am
All my dirt, all my scars
Every burden on my heart
You take them all, take them all
Every tear (You love me)
Every stain (You love me)
You wash away

'Cause You love me
Just as I am
