

Lost

Unspoken.

Before you taught my heart how to hear your voice
I had a million questions only guessing where to go
You never know what you are missing when you don't know that it
's there
I was blinded trying to find it on my own

I was lost, lost, hopeless here without you
Every time I tried to doubt you, you proved me wrong
'Cause your love, love, love already found me
Your eyes are ever on me, I will not be lost

I tried to paint to a picture when my eyes were closed
But you can't teach your self something you've never known
You can make mistake and never take the truth you could have le arned
Or you can turn, run back across the bridges you burned

I was lost, lost, hopeless here without you
Every time I tried to doubt you, you proved me wrong
'Cause your love, love, love already found me
Your eyes are ever on me, I will not be lost, I will not be los

Even when the day turns black as night
Even when I can't tell wrong from from right
Show me how to let my faith be my sign

I was lost, lost, hopeless here without you
Every time I tried to doubt you, you proved me wrong
Oh, your love, love, love already found me
Your eyes are ever on me, I will not be lost
Your eyes are ever on me, I will not be lost, I will not be los
