

Separate

Until I Wake

At the edge I'm close to giving up
Never knowing if I'm good enough
I don't know what's gotten into me
Just drowning in anxiety

Still imagine that there is a chance
I could find a way to live again
In my head, it's like I'm in a maze
And now I question everything

To run away
To live inside this shame
Afraid I'm running out of time
Won't make it out alive
Or will I bring
Myself through suffering
A chance to separate myself from this
(Separate)

Things about me I know I could change
Think it's time from me to rearrange
Everything, underneath
Tearing out what's got into me
Feel my heart and maybe then I'll bleed
Everything out
All these fears and doubts
I won't sacrifice this

To run away
To live inside this shame
Afraid I'm running out of time
Won't make it out alive
Or will I bring
Myself through suffering
A chance to separate myself from this
(Separate)

Break through the noise of all this suffering
It's worth nothing
Underneath I'm
Glowing from all the light, reflected from within
It makes no sense

To run away
To live inside this shame
Afraid I'm running out of time
Won't make it out alive
Or will I bring
Myself through suffering
A chance to separate myself from this
(Separate)
