

Don't Waste Your Time

Unto Others

A marker is lain on the space
You've chosen to place your grave
Saving your pennies, you're planning for death
Why are you living?
You pray to a man above
To trade your confessions for love
There is no forgiveness, you don't understand
You receive nothing

And no one will hold you in the night
You're waiting to die
If you're looking for some peace of mind
Don't waste your time

You desperately want me to see
That you're doing better than me
You want my respect but I'll warrant you none
You deserve nothing
And please can you answer me why
You're not even willing to try?
Quitting again and you don't seem to care
Absolute failure

You sit through the seasons of your life
Out of your mind
If you want me to care when you're dying
Don't waste your time

On and on, you live but you don't feel
Let the current take you where it will
You want to speak but have no words to say
If we are equal why aren't we the same?

And no one will hold you in the night
You're waiting to die
If you're looking for some peace of mind
Don't waste your time
