

Sailing In The Darkness

Unto Others

Oh, how sinister the soul
I've got to see the wider world
Oh, this temptation
In the darkness I've sailed on for so long

Out beyond the setting sun
A golden world awaits the ones
Who carve their destinations in the skies
And beggars ask for you to cry
But beggars laugh when beggars die
Better choose the way

'Cause you and I are sailing in the darkness
You and I are sailing far away
You and I are sailing in the dark, oh, no, no, no
And we don't know the way

Cutting off and casting out
I turn the tide, can't drag me down
No, I don't beg for mercy anymore
And meek will try to pacify
Adventure with their worried eyes
They won't win the war

'Cause you and I are sailing in the darkness
You and I are sailing far away
You and I are sailing in the dark, oh, no, no, no
And we don't know the way

Electricity in the air
Seems nobody knows
But if you got the time
Go
You can have the power
Come on, come on
Give it to me one more time
Yeah

Take me far away
Where you and I are sailing in the darkness
(You can have the power) You and I are sailing far away
(Come on, come on) You and I are sailing in the dark, oh, no, no, no
(Give it to me one more time) And we don't know the way
(Come on) No, no, we don't know the way
(You can have the power) Searching so long for the garden of Eden
(Give it to me one more time) And we don't know the way
(Yeah) No, no there's no other way
