

Leaves

UNWELL

Our nights are growin' cold so fast
The leaves were never meant to last
But everytime the wind blows past
Makes me wish that you'd...

Come back
Rip the sheets off our old bed
Unpack everything we've ever said
Yeah I know I'm short on wisdom
But I've learned commitment's freedom
I'm just tryin' to get on track

Well, the emptiness gets stronger as it frosts over my nights
And my hope is shrinkin' smaller every time you say goodbye
Oh, the loneliness gets harder every time you press decline
I guess I'll try to get you off my mind

If I clear my thoughts of the decay
Would you acknowledge all the change
Or look the other way
I know I've got a lot to give
But there's some other traits I lack
But if you looked on from the past
Do you think that you'd come back?

Come back

Well, the emptiness gets stronger as it frosts over my nights
And my hope is shrinkin' smaller every time you say goodbye
Oh, the loneliness gets harder every time you press decline
I guess I'll try to get you off my mind

Get you off my mind...
And I wish that I could see through
All the fog that's in the rearview
I'm just trying to escape forever reliving my biggest mistake

Our nights are growin' cold so fast
The leaves were never meant to last
But everytime the wind blows past
Makes me wish that you'd...

Well, the emptiness gets stronger as it frosts over my nights
And my hope is shrinkin' smaller every time you say goodbye
Oh, the loneliness gets harder every time you press decline
I guess I'll try to get you off my mind

Our nights are growin' cold so fast
(I'll try)
The leaves were never meant to last
(To get you off my mind)
But everytime the wind blows past
Makes me wish that you'd come back
Our nights are growin' cold so fast
(I'll try)
The leaves were never meant to last
(To get you off my mind)

But everytime the wind blows past
Makes me wish that you'd come back
