

Fake

Upon This Dawning

When you feel ashamed and your world is just the cage you're living in
I can not feel the same cause you're just like the others so get the fuck away
Get the fuck out

There's no escape from what you are
(You're alone all alone but it's gonna change)
How can this moment last forever?

Show me your guts!

Yeah, you know shit
That if your god just had a chance he would sin

When you feel misplaced and you're trying to find the place where you're gonna be safe
Well you must stop to blame it's the life that you wanted so get the fuck away
Get the fuck out

There's no escape from what you are
(You're alone all alone but it's gonna change)
How can this moment last forever?

Show me your guts!

Yeah, you know shit
That if your god just had a chance he would sin

I paid the price to be the way I am
And I won't let my fears get the best of me
Well I don't care to know what you regret
Get the fuck away get the fuck out
