

Losing You

Upstanding Youth

Better days have come my way and I'm not one that likes to say that world is so gray, but things are pretty crappy.
I lost my money, lost my mom and everything I had is gone.
Go ahead and pile it on.

I knew that these days would come,
but I'd rather be here playing in the sun.
Right now I may feel down,
but the world's gonna spin and things will turn around.

Clouds are rolling back again now, I'm at my ropes end, all I need is my true friend, but things are pretty crappy.
I don't care what you say.
