

Is It Fair?

Urma

to be caught in the middle
is it fair
to be shaped by your needs,
is it fair
to be told but not be listened when it hurts

to quit life for a living
is it fair
to be safe but not close
is it fair
to deny when you can't reach the outside world

for the friend you haven't met for the smile that never ends for the one who'll never let you down it is fair

to become a survivor to forget how to listen your heart
is it fair
to stay out of your trouble can't forget

is it fair to pretend that you live without fearing your guilt or your needs can you give the best in all, for free ?
