

Come

Urszula

Came to see the Berlin Wall breaking
Sweet freedom floated in the air
Then saw your jeans
Dancing slowly on the stairs
Circled by some friends
And empty cans of beer

Walked up and suddenly I kissed you
I saw the sun rise in your eyes
I felt so hot and I try to run away
Then to my surprise
My ears heard you say

Come share my life
All around falls rotten
Come take ride
The universe is open
Come touch my hands
Let's combine emotions
Life's a million chance
No need to stay lonesome
I fell in love in 60 second
I knew that love would come my way
A joy of life – we shared it all night long
When he walked me home
What else could I say?

Come...

Come be my guide
In the House of pleasure
Show how to hide my one and only treasure
Come share my love, clock are due to make it
See the stars above
Ones's for you to take it
