Beyond the black waves, I feel a hint of morning
The unfading stars start shining in my heart
Even sad songs will someday become nostalgic ones
An unseen scar colors my soul

Even if I fall down, I get back up
When I hesitate, I stand still
And then I ask: Were it you
What would you do at times like this?

You're there inside my heart
No matter what
Even on this road I planned on walking alone
Its beginning was you
It's a lonely road
But I'm not alone
That's how I feel

I think there are times when we get carried away
Mankind isn't living on our own, we're being kept alive

You mustn't believe
Just in what is visible
There's no sign
Standing on the forked road of life

No matter what I do, no matter who I'm with this body is together with you
Even on the road I must walk alone
I can hear your voice
It's a lonely road
You are every song
This is the truth

You're there inside my heart
No matter what
Even on a road I still don't know where it leads to I'm sure you'll be there
It's a lonely road
But I'm not alone
That's how I feel
