Connecting point to point
Drawing lines with my finger
Is the road I've come down my true destination?

Line to line, we link together
Before long, everyone arrives at the sea
And will become one, that's why I'm not scared

Oh oh, flowing through
Countless rivers
You don't have to accept everything
Oh oh, with the name you're given
Without ever asking 'why'?
Our pain just now flew away

We weren't entrusted with swords
Just so we'd know how they sound when they clash
Who can protect you from this kind of contradiction?

Oh oh, you change shape so many times
Floating down before me
Today I'm looking for you
Oh oh, you don't have to be accepted
Everywhere, everyone was blessed with a blade
Called "individuality"

Oh oh, sometimes the riverflow changes
You don't have to accept everything
Oh oh, with the name you're given
Without having anything
The birds facing against the Sea breeze just flew away
