'Boyfriend', or 'girlfriend'
I prefer not to call each other by those titles
Leaving things unresolved and mysterious
Has always been more fascinating by far

Sunday morning that I love
It's about not worrying about things like time
And being able to spend more time than usual with you

Sunday morning, sunshine dreaming
All night dancing
Christmas morning, candles burning
All night dancing

Things like happiness and unhappiness
Are basically mistaken concepts
Congratulations, condolences
A Sunday morning I spend peacefully

Get up early Monday morning
I kinda want to quit work
And go to the aquarium with you on a weekday afternoon

Cloudy morning, ice cream toppings

Music's playing
High street shopping, chocolate cravings
Baby's crying

We don't call each other things like 'boyfriend' or 'girlfriend'
But I still love you
Leaving things unresolved and mysterious
Has always been more fascinating by far

'Date' or 'getting dressed up'
Are things I don't feel like doing
Hanging out in my room is fine isn't it?
With the curtains drawn
A Sunday morning we spend peacefully

Deadlines and appointments
I like having things to do
If I get tired of love
Quietly sleeping is fine too

'Boyfriend', or 'girlfriend'
I prefer not to call each other by those titles
Leaving things unresolved and mysterious
Has always been more fascinating by far
