Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same

On a rainbow colored bus to the other side of the rainbow
Everyone rides under a blue sky pass
We're going somewhere today on the rainbow colored bus
Sing with a loud voice

Hit by the rain, my shoes are drenched inside
I hope the rainbow colored bus comes to pick me up soon

I certainly won't get enough sleep on the night before my excursion
I'm looking forward to it, I'm looking forward to it
That worried girl suddenly studies abroad
With heart wrenching sorrow

Send your thoughts to the person you love
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
On the rainbow colored bus to the other side of the rainbow
Everyone rides under a blue sky pass

I invite you out on a date to check out a rumor
I try to liven things up with a slightly naughty conversation

On a crowded train commuting to work, commuting to school
Monday to Friday, Monday to Friday
The world's standard of survival of the fittest
Please don't be defeated, please don't be defeated

Due to a small thing, my heart hurts
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
On a rainbow colored bus to the other side of the rainbow
Everyone rides under a blue sky pass
We're going somewhere today on the rainbow colored bus
Sing with a loud voice

Take me to a world where there is no one
Take me to a world where there is no one

Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
Everybody feels the same
