

Hamilton South

Vacations

A quiet street where nothing happens
Oh I'd take any day, over Manhattan

A sense of pride I get, I couldn't be more in your debt
For everything and everyone

My heart's going south to Hamilton
It's not worth much but it's more than enough
Scenery changes more than I remember
These memories fade, but they will not surrender

From time to time, I want to leave
There's more to life than Rivets, and shade under the tree

A sense of pride I get, I couldn't be more in your debt
For everything and everyone

My heart's going south to Hamilton
It's not worth much but it's more than enough
Scenery changes more than I remember
These memories fade, but they will not surrender
