

Side by side, so serene and slow
As moonlight dances over everyone below

If only there was a way
I could illustrate all of my surroundings back to you
I know it won't be long

There's no chance I'd trade this for anything else at all
I know I've made my choice
There's no turning back anymore

The sun and I, so colourful and still
Watching life whirl by, there's nothing more tranquil

If only there was a way
I could illustrate all of my surroundings back to you
I know it won't be long

There's no chance I'd trade this for anything else at all
I know I've made my choice
There's no turning back anymore
I know it won't be long

I know it won't be long

There's no chance I'd trade this for anything else at all
I know I've made my choice
There's no turning back anymore
There's no chance I'd trade this for anything else at all
And despite the circumstance
I know it won't be so long
'Til I'll be seeing you
