

Seasons

Vacations

Standing on the precipice
Setting off for the first time
Take the fall into the abyss
Unknown to us what we'll find

Trace your thoughts, map out a view
Venture forth, if only you knew

Don't blink for a second, or you just might miss this
Day to day, everything has a reason
Glow in the distance for a moment of bliss
Falling into place, going with the seasons

Always move with practice
What makes this chance any different?
Keep your balance on axis
To swim against the current

Trace your thoughts, map out a view
Venture forth, if only you knew

Don't blink for a second, or you just might miss this
Day to day, everything has a reason
Glow in the distance for a moment of bliss
Falling into place, going with the seasons
