

Skin And Bone

Vagrants

If we're just skin and bone
If no one knows where we go
Then I'll just sit right here
Yeah, I'll just disappear

Memories silhouettes
The haunting feeling I can't express
Ever longing to let go
I'm just asking what would happen
If I could just disappear?
What I'm after, is would it matter
If I could just

If we're just skin and bone
Too selfish to love what we loathe
I'm at war with all my fears
They want me to disappear

Disappear into the void
Static faces, just white noise
Disconnected, it's my choice

Let go
I'm just asking what would happen
If I could just disappear?
What I'm after, is would it matter
If I could just

Reach for the possessions
That once lined these empty shelves
And their familiar absence
Pulls me back inside
Right inside your hell

I've struggled to find a lie
I can hide behind
Because they never came from the heart
Can you see from where you are
How easy a life can be taken apart?

Let go
I'm just asking what would happen
If I could just disappear?
What I'm after, is would it matter
If I could just

If we're just skin and bone
If no one knows where we go
Then I'll just sit right here
Yeah, I'll just disappear

Watch me disappear
